Matisse Drawings: Curated by Ellsworth Kelly from The Pierre and Tana Matisse Foundation Collection

October 23, 2016 – January 29, 2017

Matisse Drawings: Curated by Ellsworth Kelly from The Pierre and Tana Matisse Foundation Collection, a unique exploration of Henri Matisse's drawings by one of America's greatest abstract artists, provides new insight into the French master's work. For this special exhibition, Ellsworth Kelly surveyed Matisse's drawings from 1900 through 1950, revealing Matisse's process and the range of his creativity as a draughtsman. Many of the 45 works on view, from quick sketches to highly detailed images, have rarely or never-before been exhibited. To accompany this display, Kelly selected work from his own large-scale Suite of Plant Lithographs (1964–66) for presentation in an adjacent gallery, illuminating both the sympathies and distinct differences between the two artists. The entire installation, including frame choice and placement of works, was conceived by Kelly, and this is among the last exhibitions on which he worked before his death (December 27, 2015). In his tribute to Kelly, Jerry Saltz described him as "the artist I now think of as the American Matisse."

Great Decisions: The European Union, 10:00 AM, Great Decisions welcomes guests and new members for a lively and informative discussion about The European Union. From a basic commodities trade agreement among six former antagonists in the chaotic aftermath of WW2, it has evolved into a 28-member continental political and economic Union. But it is also a complex, bureaucratic organization that challenges traditional concepts of nation-state independence. It is difficult to understand, even at time for its members and many of their citizens. We will talk about what it is, how it functions, and how it is likely to respond to challenges, including Britain's leaving and new candidates eager to join. Can the Euro survive? Is it possible to have a single currency for the diverse members of the continent? What will the EU look like without Britain? Is it still moving toward becoming a United States of Europe? Join us for an open, constructive, and non-partisan discussion! For more information, please visit <http://www.bedfordny.com/greatdecisions/>

BEDFORD AUDUBON

Learn about green roofs and birds with Bedford Audubon and Dustin Partridge

The world is rapidly urbanizing and green space in heavily developed areas is limited. While ground-level space in urban areas is largely unavailable for conversion to green space, there is a surplus of open space high above the city streets. Conversion of barren roof tops to green roofs is a sustainable way to increase green space in cities. Green roofs reduce rain water runoff, lower energy use, increase air quality, and offer opportunity for human use, but the benefits to wildlife are largely unknown.

Dustin Partridge has been studying green roofs in New York City for six years to determine if they can provide habitat for migratory and breeding birds. Mr. Partridge will discuss green roof ecology, the wildlife that uses green roofs, and the future of green roofs as a tool for bird conservation.

The lecture will be held in the Garden Room of the Katonah Village Library. Refreshments are served at 7pm, and the lecture begins at 7:30. Please bring a reusable mug to help us reduce our ecological footprint. No registration required. Bedford Audubon connects people to nature. For more than a century, we've served the communities of northeastern Westchester and eastern Putnam counties through experiential environmental education, conservation research, and habitat protection.

KATONAH MUSEUM OF ART

Matisse Drawings: Curated By Ellsworth Kelly, October 23 – January 29, 2017. Matisse Drawings: Curated by Ellsworth Kelly is a unique exploration of Matisse’s drawings by one of America’s greatest abstract artists. Conceived with an artist’s eye, the exhibition illuminates the French master’s work in a new way, while also providing a rare opportunity to view a body of work from the outstanding private collection of the Pierre and Tana Matisse Foundation. Kelly surveys Matisse’s drawings from 1900 through 1950, from quick sketches to finished drawings, and reveals Matisse’s process, along with the range of his creativity as a draughtsman. To accompany Matisse Drawings, Kelly also selected work from his own Suite of Plant Lithographs (1965-66) to be shown in an adjacent gallery. As Kelly reflects on Matisse’s and his own explorations of line, the coupling suggests both the sympathies and distinct differences between the two artists. The entire exhibition conceived by Kelly, from frame choice to placement of works includes 45 drawings by Matisse, as well as Kelly’s large-scale botanical lithographs. This is among the last exhibitions on which Kelly worked before his death (December 27, 2015). More information at <http://www.katonahmuseum.org/exhibitions/upcoming/>.
